Some Suggestions For An Altar Call

Before the altar call, these words could be spoken:

"There may be someone here this morning who is dealing with a big, dark secret. Some sexual sin. It could be homosexuality. It could be pornography. It could be adultery. If anyone knew about it, you would be devastated. I'm here to tell you Jesus already knows all about it, and He loves you anyway. He wants you to bring that to Him today."

"There may be someone here this morning who has been the victim of others' sexual sins in the past. Jesus is calling you today to come to Him for healing prayer."

"Whatever the need, come to Jesus today. Share the need with the prayer counselor, and receive the matchless grace of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ."

This altar call is designed to be broad and will serve several purposes:

1. A call to the lost to come, especially those in sexual brokenness.
2. A call to family members and friends of the sexually broken for special prayer
3. A call for those who are led to receive training - for prayers of consecration
4. A call to the church at large for recommitment to the Gospel of Jesus and a heart to reach out to the broken and lost no matter what the problem.
